Subject: Assistant Professor in Environmental Chemistry

The Environmental Sciences Program (ENSC) at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville (SIUE) invites applications for a tenure-track position in Environmental Sciences at the Assistant Professor level, to begin August 16 2015.

SIUE is a large Master's-granting institution about 20 minutes from downtown St. Louis MO, and has a new science building equipped with state-of-the art research and teaching equipment and facilities.

Candidates should exhibit potential for independent and innovative research involving Master's and undergraduate students. We seek individuals who can develop synergistic collaborations with existing SIUE faculty. The position includes a competitive salary and start-up package. The successful candidates will teach courses in support of the ENSC graduate program and the new Environmental Sciences undergraduate major.

This position will be a joint appointment between the Environmental Sciences Program and the Department of Chemistry. We seek applicants with research experience in chemistry, fate, and/or biogeochemical cycling of anthropogenic pollutants in biota or air, water, sediment, or soil environments. We seek applicants with a research program that focuses on real-world natural or built environments, and who would add novel research expertise to ENSC and Chemistry. The successful candidate will teach courses in introductory chemistry, environmental chemistry, analysis of environmental contaminants, and their area of expertise.

QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. in environmental sciences or related field at the time of hire. Post-doctoral and teaching experience preferred.

Review of complete applications will begin January 15, 2015, and continue until the position is filled.

APPLICATION MATERIALS FOR SUBMISSION MUST INCLUDE A LETTER OF APPLICATION, A STATEMENT OF TEACHING PHILOSOPHY, A STATEMENT OF RESEARCH INTERESTS, CURRICULUM VITAE, COPIES OF NO MORE THAN 3 REPRESENTATIVE PUBLICATIONS, TRANSCRIPTS, and CONTACT INFORMATION FOR THREE REFERENCES TO (electronic pdf applications strongly preferred):
